

Kenneth C. Millett
University of California, Santa Barbara

Title: Knot and Slip-knot Scaling in Random Walks

Employing random walks to model open polymer chains under theta conditions, we describe the scaling of the number of monomers constituting the knotted and slip-knotted segments. We compare this scaling with that known for other open polymer chains models under different conditions.